Spa Safety

- Maintain constant adult supervision when children are in or near ANY body of water.
- Install fences, barriers and hot tub covers to prevent unsupervised access, especially by young children.
- Always completely remove your hot tub cover before using your hot tub.
- Inspect your hot tub equipment on a regular basis to ensure that it is in good working order and that it is safe.
- Always test the temperature of your hot tubs water before entering the hot tub. It is recommended that maximum water temperature never exceed 104°F (40°C). Do not soak for more than 15 minutes at one sitting in 104°F (40°C) water.
- Individuals with certain medical conditions, such as heart disease, diabetes, high or low blood pressure, and pregnant women, should not use a hot tub without advance approval by their physician. If a person has any doubt as to whether a medical condition should limit their use of a hot tub, they should seek prior consultation with their physician. Individuals with open cuts or wounds should not use a hot tub until completely healed.
- Never use a hot tub when you are alone and never use a hot tub while using or after using alcohol or drugs that may cause sleepiness, drowsiness, or raise or lower blood pressure.
- Ask your city about any specific rules and regulations that apply to hot tub ownership, including local electrical codes.
- Do not allow unsafe or risky behavior in and around the hot tub.
- Consult with a licensed electrician for installation of or any work to your hot tub. If you are installing your own hot tub, it is your responsibility that all work performed complies with the National Electrical Code and all other applicable codes and regulations.
- Your hot tubs jets, grates, skimmer and main drain should be properly maintained and secured. Hot tub users should be instructed not to stick any part of their body into such outlets as entrapment and drowning can occur. Hot tub users with long hair should also be cautioned not to get their hair near such outlets.
- Keep a first aid kit in close proximity to your hot tub.
- Maintenance and safety manuals contain detailed tips and recommendations and should be read, followed and applied on a regular basis.
